

Electronic Disclosure and Consent

Enrollment in Online Statements and notices will enroll all eligible accounts in online document delivery. If you do not want a specific account enrolled, please notify us by phone, chat, or in person.

This Electronic Disclosure and Consent contains important information about how Nodaway Valley Bank (“we”) will deliver disclosures, account statements and applicable account notices (“documents”) electronically as required by applicable law. By accepting this Disclosure you agree that we may provide you with any notice that we may choose to make available in electronic format including but not limited to NSF/Overdraft Notices, Transfer Notices, Rate Change Notices, and Loan Notices. Save or print a copy of this consent for your records.

Receiving Electronic Documents. Electronic document delivery will replace paper document delivery. We will send you a courtesy email (“email notification”) notifying you when a new document is available for viewing. Any document sent to you electronically will be treated as if it were sent by U.S. Mail, postage prepaid, and will be considered received within 3 calendar days of the date sent by Nodaway Valley Bank, even if you do not receive the email or access Nodaway Valley Bank’s website during that time.

Verification of Electronic Access. Adobe Acrobat Reader is required to view electronic documents. By accessing this PDF disclosure, you are acknowledging that you have the ability to receive and view electronic documents via a PDF file. Visit nvb.com/edocument to review the current hardware and software requirements for viewing electronic documents. In the event your PC does not meet the hardware/software requirements to view electronic documents, you may withdraw your consent to electronic documents.

Withdrawal of Consent to Electronic Documents. The decision to receive documents electronically is yours; you may withdraw your consent at any time by contacting Nodaway Valley Bank. Upon withdrawal of consent, your documents will revert to paper document delivery. Withdrawal of your consent will not affect the legal validity and enforceability of any document previously sent electronically.

Reverting to Paper Document Delivery. If you withdraw your consent or no longer qualify for electronic documents, you will begin receiving paper documents. Reverting to paper documents may incur a monthly paper statement fee and/or reduction of some account benefits. See your account disclosure, contact Nodaway Valley Bank or visit nvb.com/fees to determine how your specific account will be affected.

Obtaining and Retaining Copies of Electronic Documents. You may obtain and retain electronic or paper copies of your electronic documents with any of the following methods. Save a copy of the document to your PC or external storage device; Print a copy of the document from your PC; Request Nodaway Valley Bank provide a paper copy to you (a printout fee will apply).

Notification of Changes. If your contact information changes, you agree to provide this new information to Nodaway Valley Bank. You may update your email address by logging into your online banking and selecting Profile. You may also contact Nodaway Valley Bank to update your contact information. We agree to provide a notice to you in the event of any changes regarding hardware and software requirements necessary to receive documents electronically.
